

Dedication Of New YMCA Takes Place Tomorrow Afternoon

Ceremonies

Scheduled
For 3 P.M.

THE NEW Monroe County YMCA building is "all ready" for the dedication ceremony, John R. Wilson, executive secretary said last night.

Services opening the building will be held Sunday beginning at 3 p. m. The main speaker will be W. Haines Kent, State YMCA secretary.

A committee, headed by Rev. Frank Blatt and Robert Logan, completed hanging of a group of 18 paintings in the rooms of the building last night. The paintings were contributed by local artists.

Paintings Hung

Artists whose work was hung yesterday are the following:

Edna Palmer Engelhardt, Mrs. Helen Aument, Violet Price, May Price, Elnora Hauser, Isabel Booth, Dr. Herbert Lorenz, Mrs. Vernon Miller, Mrs. Clement Wiedmeyer, Dr. Claus Jordan, Carla Holmgren, Gwynne Lennon, Elizabeth McEldowney, Mrs. Gertrude Rugh, Otto Christ, Olivia Dreher and Robert Logan.

Sunday's ceremony will include introduction of S. S. Kresge, Mountaineer, founder of the chain of retail stores which bears his name and the largest single donor to the Y's building drive.

The program will be opened with an organ selection by Ruth J. Fetherman, assistant organist at St. John's Lutheran Church. Rev. Blatt, pastor of the Zion Reformed Church, will give the invocation.

Welcome Address

E. Holt Wyckoff, president of the YMCA board of directors, will deliver a welcome address and will introduce guests in the audience and on the speaker's platform.

A highlight of the program will be presentation of the keys of the building by Paul Edinger, general contractor, to Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, chairman of the building committee. Noonan will, in turn, present the keys to Wyckoff.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, will give a formal prayer. Kent will be introduced by Clifford Gilliam, a member of the Y board.

Gilliam is also a member of the National YMCA Council and has long been active in youth activities locally and on the national scene.

Audience To Take Part

Rev. Harold MacMurray will deliver a responsive sermon of dedication for the building. The audience will take part in the sermon.

"Bless This House," the hymn of benediction, will be sung by Leonard Kranendonk. Rev. Edgar B. Moore, pastor of Canadensis Methodist Church, will give the benediction.

A large audience is expected to attend the formal dedication and opening of the new Y, board members estimated last night.

Pike County Man's Friend Fatally Beaten

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 3 (P)—A vacationing Army doctor was beaten to death 16 miles south of here yesterday and a sailor from California has been charged with first-degree murder in the case.

The victim was identified as Capt. Edward C. Branson, 29, Washington, D.C.

In Clay County jail at Green Cove Springs is Robert Owen Emmett, 18, an airman apprentice at Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

Judge T. J. Rivers said Capt. Branson was beaten about the head and face with a hickory stick about four feet long.

T. E. Drach of Pike County, Pa., an ex-Army man, said he and Branson left Washington Sunday on a tour of the South.

Drach said he and Branson went to a downtown Jacksonville bar Wednesday night but became separated there and that was the last he saw of the doctor.

Gobel's Remark Draws Protest From Methodists

HOUSTON, Tex., June 3 (P)—The Texas Methodist Conference today approved a Board of Temperance report criticizing a remark made last Saturday night by television comedian George Gobel.

The report asked that all members of the 185,000-member conference wire or write protests to Gobel and his two sponsors.

The report quoted Gobel as saying in his closing remarks on Saturday's show:

"You've heard that you can't buy happiness. You can. Go out and buy a fifth."

"Because of our Christian conviction concerning the spiritual values of life, our recognition of the destructive effects of the use of alcoholic beverages, and because of the widespread popularity of Mr. Gobel among children and young people particularly, we feel that it is altogether proper that we single him out at this present time and ask that specific steps be taken by him to renew the confidence of his listening audience."

Air Force Captain Accused Of Admitting Tax Dodge To Hide Alleged Bribes

WASHINGTON, June 3 (P)—Capt. Raymond Wool was accused by Senate investigators today of falsely branding himself a tax dodger in order to hide the real source of $16,000 he kept in an iron box at his home.

The charge was buttressed by testimony of two former sales girls that a Madison, N. J., dress shop owned by Wool and his wife lost money steadily. This gave the lie to the Air Force officer's story that most of his secret cash came from dress shop profits.

Wool insisted, however, that "Fran's Dress Shop" made money—that the losses he reported on income tax returns were fraudulent. And he repeated a denial he ever took bribes from government contractors, including an alleged $50,000 from Chicagoan Harry Lev.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) asked the husky-voiced witness what effect he thought his "extraordinary" and "inadequate" account of his finances would have on the Air Force career.

Career Finished

"I imagine it is finished, sir," Wool replied.

Once chief of clothing purchases for the armed forces in New York, Wool now is stationed at Shelby, Ohio. The Air Force says he has been under investigation for some time.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee delved into Wool's bank records after the officer told of Lev being allowed to make contract deviations that netted him, and cost the government—$141,406.

Wool swore there was nothing irregular about this. "I think I've served the best interests of the government throughout my years of service," he said.

Sales Girls Called

One of the ex-sales girls called to the stand, Doris Auringer, named Marvin Rubin — Harry Lev's partner and alleged payoff man — as a frequent visitor to the dress shop operated by Wool and his wife from 1950 to 1953.

In fact, said Miss Auringer, who lives in Green Village, N. J., Rubin was there the day the shop folded and Mrs. Wool fired her on an hour's notice.

"He was very nasty to me," the plump, frank-spoken witness recalled. "I told Mrs. Wool I thought I was entitled to some severance pay and he said: 'You were sitting on your tail for months and months—what have you got to complain about?'"

It would cut out two of the five present survivors' benefit programs and generally liberalize the three others, as Hardy explained it.

About 606,000 survivors—widows, children and dependent parents—are now getting some 425 million dollars a year on compensation rolls. The new program is expected to cost the government about 43 million dollars a year more to start with, but to taper off below the 425 million later on.

Truck Runs Away As Driver Stops To Get Drink

WASHINGTON, N. J.—A truck driver stopped to get a drink from a roadside spring yesterday afternoon and his truck ran away.

State police said the driver—Stanley Hadwich, of Avoca, Pa.—parked his tractor-trailer alongside Route 46. He pulled on the emergency brake, got out and walked to a spring nearby.

While Hadwich was getting a drink he looked up and saw his truck begin to move. The tractor-trailer ran down the road, went through guardrails and plunged 40 feet down an embankment. No one was injured.

Addressing a meeting of AFL union heads of seven states, the chief executive listed three state services he said will receive top priority under his administration.

"I am determined to clean up the mental health problem in Pennsylvania, provide a good education system that will also care for the state's handicapped children and provide jobs if possible for the unemployed," he explained.

Some 400 union leaders of the American Federation of Labor attended the conference of labor's League for Political Education but took no stand on the income tax. The delegates included union leaders from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia, the District of Columbia, New York, and Maryland.

Pointing to his proposed income levy as an "honest" means of solving the state's fiscal woes, Leader said:

Rail Strike Tightens Grip On Britain

LONDON, June 3 (P)—The British railway strike threatened Scottish steel production tonight and tightened its grip elsewhere on the country's industrial machine.

Prime Minister Eden will take to the air Sunday night to give the nation a strike report. This will be his second broadcast on the crisis—an unprecedented step for a British premier in peacetime.

Trains were running at approximately one-fifth of normal. A few factories gave their employees precautionary lay-off notices, usually for next Friday. But more announced shorter work weeks or abolished overtime in hopes of riding out the strike, now in its sixth day, by stretching supplies. Finished goods jammed up in company warehouses.

The Ministry of Labor said it had no figures on the number of workers who had received lay-off notices.

Hopes of an early end to the strike hit rock bottom.

"At the moment, there is no opening for a settlement," said Jim Baty, general secretary of the 67,000-strong striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

S. S. Benefits For Servicemen

WASHINGTON, June 3 (P)—A special House Committee today proposed bringing all servicemen under the regular Social Security System, and doing away with their present $10,600 free life insurance.

These were two key points in a sweeping overhaul of military survivor benefits drafted by a special committee after months of study.

Chairman Hardy (D-Va.) said he believes the program will have administration support. The committee talked over the bill with President Eisenhower yesterday.

The legislation is aimed at revamping what Pentagon officials have called a confusing patchwork of payments into a simpler and fairer system.

It would cut out two of the five present survivors' benefit programs and generally liberalize the three others, as Hardy explained it.

About 606,000 survivors—widows, children and dependent parents—are now getting some 425 million dollars a year on compensation rolls. The new program is expected to cost the government about 43 million dollars a year more to start with, but to taper off below the 425 million later on.

Escaped Prisoner Recaptured In Warren County, N. J., Says He Was Going To Wife's Home

BELVIDERE, N. J.—Justin J. Burdo, 25, who escaped from Pike County Jail Thursday at 12:45 p. m. was recaptured by New Jersey State troopers yesterday afternoon on Route 611.

Burdo was picked up at 5 p. m. —28 hours and 15 minutes after he walked out of Pike jail. He was taken to Warren County Jail here to be picked up by Pennsylvania authorities.

Trooper Harold Wackwitz, who made the arrest, said that Burdo told him he was waiting for his second wife to "come and pick me up." Burdo told the trooper he had called her earlier and told her to "meet me."

Accused Of Non-Support

Burdo was in Pike County Jail to await hearing on a non-support charge filed by his first wife, Dorothy, of Dinghams Ferry. The first Mrs. Burdo charges that her former husband has not fulfilled the terms of a court order to pay $15 weekly for support of a son by the first marriage.

When picked up yesterday afternoon, Burdo told police his second wife "is five months pregnant and

Church Plans Punishment For Peron

VATICAN CITY, June 3 (P)—Argentina's President Juan D. Peron, a Roman Catholic once decorated by Pope Pius XII, is only a very short step from excommunication if he is not already so punished by the church, a Vatican authority said today.

"We cannot say yet whether he has fallen into the state of excommunication, nor can we deny it," a monsignor consultant of the Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office said in comment on a church-state feud flaring for seven months in Argentina.

"But certainly he is in grave sin, and with him all the legislators of the Peronista-dominated Congress who have adopted the law on divorce, eliminated religious education from the schools and concurred in the arrests of priests and Catholic laymen."

"What is certain, if the President does not fall into the state of excommunication, is that he is a very short step from it."

Two Professional Killers Follow Woman To Execution Chamber For Profitless Slaying

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., June 3 (P)—Two professional killers and a pretty woman who got mixed up in one of their many murders died in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber today after an ordeal of last-minute legal delays.

Barbara Graham, whose love of money led to murder, died protesting the two futile stunts that kept her alive an extra hour and a half: "Why do they torture me?"

Jack Santo and Emmet Perkins, convicted of six murders, died as easily as they had killed—chatty and almost debonair.

All three were executed for the robbery-murder of a Burbank, Calif., widow. Ironically, the robbery failed to get them any money.

Santo and Perkins were professional robbers who counted murder as part of their trade.

Mrs. Graham, 32, was a woman whose trade was sex—until she joined Santo and Perkins in the Monahan murder, a killing that profited none of them a penny.

One scant hour before her scheduled execution at 10 a. m., Gov. Goodwin J. Knight granted a temporary stay to permit a new plea to the State Supreme Court.

The court, sitting in Los Angeles, quickly rejected her lawyers' contention that she was illegally convicted through evidence obtained via a secret microphone in her Los Angeles jail cell. The U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco also refused a hearing.

Miracle Baby Comes To Life In Mortuary

HOUSTON, Tex., June 3 (P)—Miracle Dupree was the unofficial name given today to a two-pound infant girl who came to life in a funeral home after being pronounced dead.

Mortician J. Robert Corry said he detected a heart beat as he started to prepare the baby for burial.

Doctors said the baby, born three months prematurely, now has a better than 50-50 chance to survive.

"It was God's will that my baby is alive," said the mother, Mrs. Mark C. Dupree, 28. "I can only describe this as a miracle."

Nurses at the North Houston Hospital gave the infant the unofficial name of "Miracle."

The baby was born last night at the Center Clinic and Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said there was neither a heart beat nor breath sounds and artificial respiration efforts for more than an hour had been futile.

Senate Group Approves $1 Wage Floor

WASHINGTON, June 3 (P)—In somewhat surprising harmony, a Senate Labor subcommittee today voted to raise the nationwide minimum wage to $1 an hour, 25 cents above the present level and 10 cents higher than President Eisenhower has recommended.

Only Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) voted "No" on the motion of Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), subcommittee chairman. And Smith reserved the right to change his mind later. He is author of the Eisenhower 90-cent minimum wage measure scuttled by the subcommittee.

The panel recommended Jan. 1, 1956 as the effective date of the increase, the first boost in the nationwide minimum since 1939. A $1 wage floor would bring automatic wage raises to about 2,100,000 workers, many of them in the textile industry (particularly in the South) and in lumbering, tobacco, leather, candy and clothing industries.

Walter Wants Unions To File As Subversives

WASHINGTON, June 3 (P)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) today asked Atty. Gen. Brownell to act to require two labor unions to register as Communist front or Communist dominated organizations under the Subversive Activities Control Act.

The unions are the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America. Both were expelled by the CIO for being Communist controlled.

Boy Confesses Killing Girl

PORTLAND, Maine, June 3 (P)—The battered body of eight-year-old Margaret Gornley was found today in the cellar of her home and police said a 15-year-old boy had confessed orally to killing her for no apparent reason.

Better Offer Also Asked At General Motors

DETROIT, June 3 (P)—The CIO United Auto Workers sought today to wring further concessions from the Ford Motor Co., reportedly the auto industry's first to offer even a "guaranteed semiannual wage."

Armed with Ford's offer, the UAW also went back to General Motors hopeful of getting something better from the industry's biggest producer.

Three Meetings

Ford and the union had three meetings today, one in the morning, again for 1½ hours in the afternoon and another starting at 1 p. m. (EST), expected to run another 2½ hours. GM and the union met for four hours this afternoon with no announced developments.

Meanwhile Ford said tonight it lost more than 25 per cent of its scheduled production this week because of wildcat work stoppages that have accompanied negotiations.

Ford said walkouts and refusal of employees to work overtime had meant the loss of 11,228 cars and trucks in four work days, Tuesday through today.

Agree In Principle

Just what was in Ford's latest offer still remained an official secret under a so-called company union news "moratorium." From unofficial sources on both sides, however, there was agreement that Ford, the industry's second largest company, had agreed in principle with the union's guaranteed wage demand.

Ford put its latest offer on the bargaining table Tuesday after the UAW had rejected the company's "partnership in prosperity" plan.

The subsequent proposal, perhaps revised in negotiations over the past three days, now reportedly would guarantee a laid-off worker 60 to 65 per cent of average take-home pay for up to 26 weeks. The company would pay the difference between what such a worker receives in state unemployment compensation and the 60 or 65 per cent.

Examples Given

For example: A laid-off Ford worker in Michigan, where roughly half of the company's 140,000 hourly rated workers are employed, might get $40 a week if state compensation. Say his average take-home pay is $75.

During each of the first four weeks of an idleness, Ford would pay the $8.75 difference between his state benefit and the 65 per cent of the $75 he would take home if working, or $48.75.

After four weeks, the company's obligation would drop to $5—the difference between $40 and 60 per cent of $75, or $45.

Penn Station To Be Razed: New One Planned

NEW YORK, June 3 (P)—Pennsylvania Station, the nation's biggest and busiest, is to come down to make way for "the world's largest commercial building," the Pennsylvania Railroad disclosed today.

The railroad said it has reached agreement on terms for building a new station on the present site which would be used also for the huge commercial building.

The papers will be signed Tuesday by James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, and by William Zeckendorf, president of the New York City real estate firm of Webb & Knapp Inc., the railroad said.

Chou Sends Secret Note To Britain

LONDON, June 3 (P)—Diplomatic officials said tonight Premier Chou En-lai sent a secret message to Britain on the subject of Formosa's future and related problems.

This was reported as India's V. K. Krishna Menon conferred at length with Prime Minister Eden about the prospects of an international settlement of Formosa, Menon was in Peiping two weeks ago seeking a basis of negotiation between Red China and the United States.

The Chinese had a wall

Generations slaved away their lives to build it. The wealth of kings and the skill of engineers were poured into its construction. And, when it was finished, it roamed a vagabond course over the mountains for hundreds of miles, like a great grey dragon breathing defiance from every segment of its poised body.

It was a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wanted no more war . . . and the men who built it actually believed it would protect them from aggression.

The Americans have a hydrogen bomb. It, too, is a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wants no more war. And millions actually believe it will protect, not only America, but the whole world from aggression.

The only sure protection against war is the fortress that saves mankind from the evils in men's hearts which foment war. That fortress is the Christian religion. But even our religion is not a sure protection until it reaches the hearts of all men.

Support your church. Help it build the foundations of Peace in your own heart. And with your prayers and your purse advance its tireless efforts to build those same foundations in the hearts of all men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Memorial Day Highway Death Toll Should Be Studied Carefully For Better Manners

Accustomed as we are in this great country to bragging about our magnificent accomplishments in just about every field of human endeavor, we must bow our heads in shame as we contemplate one phase of existence about which we can never be proud.

That is our insistent effort to destroy ourselves by motor vehicle, and thereby hangs a tale the telling of which is never ended. The latest chapter of this tragic story is just written, as we total up the cost in lives of traffic accidents over the long Memorial Day weekend.

At mid-week this frightful toll was at 365 lives, one for every day of the year, and with a possibility that a few more of the badly injured may join the others in the fatality statistics.

Why do we never learn that the machine we have created is not a thinking apparatus, but only an extension of our own minds and muscles?

What About Other Americans Who Are Held By Red Chinese And Their Empty Double Talk?

All across the land there is prayerful thanks being voiced that the four Air Force pilots held without reason by the Chinese Reds for more than two years have been released and that a reunion with their families awaited them in Hawaii, where our government flew those who have waited so hopefully for word of their return.

But what of the others, that great number of American men in and out of uniform who are still held by the Chinese Communists, men who should have been released had the Panmunjon exchange been accorded the same good faith with which our side observed the agreements?

When shall we expect these others to be returned to their homeland?

There is nothing in the Chinese announcement made just before the four airmen were turned over to their fellow countrymen in Hong Kong to give us the slightest hint of what they intend to do with

Why do we, week after week, insist upon driving with such stupid arrogance that lives are crushed out, vehicles torn to bits, and homes saddened by the loss of loved ones?

We wish we could answer this, adequately. Yet year after year, as the death toll from traffic accidents continues to mount, we grow more baffled.

This past weekend gave us a record total of deaths by motor accident, higher than that anticipated by the National Safety Council. And as the pleasant motoring weather of summer time lies before us, we can look with hopeless certainty on a continuing repetition of this futile self-destruction.

It would be pleasant if we could write that we are learning from this record of death and disaster, learning what we should not do in our highway manners. Unfortunately, it would not be true.

We never learn.

My America —by Harry Boyd

Set Aside Few Days Each Month To Loaf

If you want to stay healthy, set aside a few days every month for just doing nothing.

So urges Dr. Nathan Kohn, a psychiatrist who spoke to a convention audience in Washington a couple of weeks ago.

This is dangerous doctrine, I suspect. But such fascinatingly dangerous doctrine.

The danger lies in the fact that its greatest appeal will be to those zealots who are hell-bent on preserving their health by one means or another and wear themselves out trying various methods.

These well-meaning souls never know when to stop. They go on the theory that if a little of anything is good for their health, more of it must be better.

That theory obviously is fraught with peril when applied to a health-preserving elixir like, say, medicinal whisky. It would be even more so if applied to a preservative like systematic loafing.

If doing nothing for a few days every month got good results the temptation would be strong to do nothing for a few days every week. And eventually twice a week.

Even the most tolerant employers might frown on a health regimen of that kind and it would keep the patient in fine fettle only if he could arrange to get his eating subsidized.

However, anything good can be had if overdone, and the thought of what Dr. Kohn's advice might do to extremists doesn't blind me to its brighter side. I was more than a little relieved to read his opinion that "there is nothing wrong with doing nothing."

I have had spells of doing nothing from time to time. Usually they come on when I withdraw to some quiet place and square off for a little serious thinking.

I sit down and get my mind all set to have at it and pretty soon I find I'm just sitting there staring at nothing, my mind a total blank. An experience like that can upset a person. For one thing, doing absolutely nothing stimulates an unpleasant sense of guilt.

That I could endure, but the other thing is that suddenly discovering that one's mind is completely void of thought or sensation raises fears that the works may be wearing out, the cogs slipping. One gets to wondering whether this is what pathologists have in mind when they speak of "fatty degeneration."

The average person muddles through life without noticeably overtaxing his intellect. Why he should worry over signs that it is losing its capacity I don't know, for he seldom bothers to use more than a fraction of its capacity anyway.

But he does worry about it. So it's comforting to hear Dr. Kohn's professional opinion that temporary paralysis of the intellect is not necessarily a bad sign—that the old brain may have a lot of mileage left in it even though it isn't turning a wheel.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Fishing is simplicity itself, explains Hamilton Clay, Jr. "All you have to do is get there yesterday when the fish were biting."

One disciple of Isaac Walton picked the wrong day for sure. He was discovered by the father of a 7-year-old boy, pole discarded, hopping on one foot, caressing the other, and howling with anguish.

"What happened?" demanded the father. "I guess it's my fault," said the lad. "This man told me he hadn't had a bite all morning—so I bit him."

The city serenade of clinking garbage cans awoke Mrs. Sluggabed from a deep slumber. Consulting her clock, she was shocked to discover that she had overslept by a full hour. She rushed to the window and hollered, "Am I late for the garbage this morning?"

The collector answered affably, "No, you're not, Mrs. Sluggabed. Jump right in."

Turkey, Greece Headed For Kremlin Wooing Treatment

Washington, June 3 — Turkey and Greece are headed for a treatment of Kremlin wooing.

And Russia had another series of thermonuclear tests in April, the second set this year.

The U.S. has not conducted any hydrogen tests since the spring of 1954.

Hints about these profoundly significant Soviet developments were pointedly dropped by Communist party boss Khrushchev during his "peace" pilgrimage to Yugoslavia.

The top Kremlin czar twice intimated that Turkey and Greece are next in line for a dose of goodwill. His first instance was in an informal conversation with a group of foreign ambassadors at a big diplomatic reception staged by Marshal Tito. The second occasion was in a talk with Yugoslav leaders.

The hints about Turkey and Greece were news, but the boastful reference to the unannounced hydrogen explosions was not.

Atomic Energy Commission authorities have known about them for weeks.

So have numerous other Washington officials, among them members of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee. U. S. experts learned about these latest Russian hydrogen explosions through fall-out and other detection sources.

Last month, the Atomic Commission was set to make an official statement regarding these Soviet tests, but it was shelved at White House order.

Reason for the pigeonholing was the furor that developed as a result of the sensational disclosures that the Reds have heavy jet bombers and other types of advanced combat planes which are the equal of this country's best, some of them not yet in full production. It was feared that AEC acknowledgment of new Soviet thermonuclear tests would strengthen the position of the congressional critics of the President's reduced military budget.

Atomic Chairman Lewis Strauss strongly recommended the shelving. Joint Committeemen have been informed he advised this "on security grounds." Strauss is due to be questioned about the matter by the Committee.

According to reports received here about Khrushchev's hints, he was apparently sounding out reaction on the Turkish-Greece wooing scheme.

It is as spectacular as the maneuver to "recapture" Yugoslavia.

The Kremlin instigated and supported warfare in Greece for years in an effort to seize armed control of that Hitler and Mussolini-ravaged land. This ruthless Red conspiracy would have succeeded but for the intervention of U. S. arms, food and military advisers commanded by General James Van Fleet, who later led allied forces against another Communist aggression in Korea. Greek children kidnapped by Red guerrillas are still being returned to their homeland.

Turkey was not actually attacked, but the Kremlin repeatedly made threatening demands for control of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles, which lie between the Soviets' landlocked Black Sea and the Mediterranean.

Turkey refused to be either bluffed or terrorized, and made no concessions on the two crucial waterways. Instead, the Turks, who had been neutral in World War II, sought U. S. military and other aid. Today, Turkey is a strong NATO supporter and one of America's staunchest allies.

Both Turkey and Greece sent forces to the Korean war. The Turkish Brigade particularly distinguished itself for valor and battle skill.

Note: The U. S., Britain and France waived all reparation claims against Austria, and in addition the U. S. extended tens of millions of dollars worth of aid of various kinds. But Russia is not only getting large reparations from Austria under the loudly-touted peace agreement, but prior to that confiscated an estimated $750,000,000 in plants, equipment, oil, food, other supplies and currency. The Austrians are paying Moscow a heavy price for freedom.

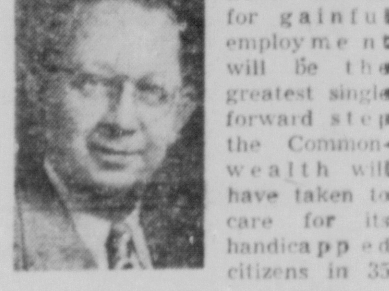

Social Whirl—The "little season" is in full stride in Washington society, which means scores of debutante parties, weddings, graduations, festivals, bazaars, fairs and other gala benefits and the like. These numerous parties and shindigs will go on daily throughout most of June, regardless of how hot it gets. . . . The day the White House announced that Admiral Carney was being replaced as Chief of Naval Operations, a prominent Republican society leader met him at a diplomatic party that night and heartily shook Carney's hand exclaiming loudly, "Congratulations on getting out of the rat-race."

. . . Mrs. Alles Longworth, who lived in the White House as the daughter of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, is creating a sensation in the Capital with new evening gowns—made of rich brocade silk that was presented to her as a bride by the Chinese Ambassador of that time. Although the cloth is more than 50 years old, it is still gorgeously handsome and the new gowns "Princess Alles" had made of it are the envy of her friends. . . . Mrs. Eisenhower is ascending her white evening dress with emerald green satin gloves and matching evening bag. . . . Mrs. Merriweather Post, recently-divorced wife of former Ambassador Joe Davies, is wearing a new breathtaking evening cape made of ostrich feathers. She says it's light as air but very cool.

Rehab Center To Open

—by H. G. Heller

Establishment of the Pennsylvania Rehabilitation Center where the severely disabled will be prepared and trained for gainful employment will be the greatest single forward step the Commonwealth has taken to care for its handicapped citizens in 35 years.

John R. Torquato, Secretary of Labor and Industry, who also is Executive Officer of the State Board of Vocational Education for Rehabilitation, said the 500-bed center at Johnstown will be the most modern and comprehensive of its type in the country. It will cost nearly $7 million and final plans and specifications are expected to be completed by June 9.

This will mark the greatest advancement our Commonwealth has taken in caring for our handicapped citizens since the original act of helping the disabled and establishing the Bureau of Rehabilitation, was passed back in 1920. Torquato said in pointing out the institution will be in the form of a school where the disadvantaged will be taught new trades so they can be placed in remunerative jobs.

The Rehabilitation Center will be designed to prepare the severely disabled for the most effective life of which they are capable. Torquato said. This will be accomplished through a well integrated program, which will enable the handicapped to receive simultaneously a treatment-training procedure including physical restoration, vocational training and personal counseling. The facilities will be designed especially to accommodate individuals who must wear artificial limbs, braces, or use a wheelchair, crutches, or canes to ambulate.

Training at the center will save time for the handicapped, and money for the tax payers because the program will be started while the handicapped individual is receiving physical restoration and counseling services, thus making it possible to have him ready for a job when he leaves the center. It also will save the time and expense of traveling to and from the training facility because provision will be made for in-service training. The center is being planned so all the training facilities, therapy rooms, dining quarters and dormitories will be connected by ramps and corridors which can be traversed easily by persons in wheelchairs or on crutches.

Everything I ever loved, I lost. Everything I loved has brought me pain.

The yellow kitten that I hugged too tightly. The doll I left all night in the rain. The dog that ran across the street to meet me. The evening dress I tore when it was new. The little opal ring that slipped my finger. The white rosebush that Winter killed, and you.

This is one of those show-biz stories you find only in The Daily W. It's about a sightless 40 year old colored lark (an ex-band vocalist) whose cronies agreed he had had it. That he was Thru. He was politely called "a singer's singer" (which means your style won't do) and he skidded down to canyoning in a Harlem after-hours spot for coffee.

A young agent named Les Magid caught his act and phoned a Decca exec to sign him. "C'mon, Man, straighten up and talk right!" pleaded Al Hibbler disbelievingly. "I've heard that song before!" He refused to sign, sure nobody was interested in his voice anymore. But his ever-lovin' (Mrs. H.) persuaded him to do it and next day Decca cut his first waffle. An

To revive the old one, "It feels so good when they stop." . . . We have detected no passion for them, Mr. Kintner, with two exceptions: (1) a fellow who was ridden out of town on a rail after asking, "Get me that fiddle about deterring?" (2) A queer character who seemed quite depressed during a TV evening and, when asked what was wrong, said, "I always get this way when I hear only a dozen types of beer mentioned." . . . He was thrown out the second story window. . . . The trouble with commercials is that the audience is slugged with them on a nonstop basis in defiance of the old saying, "It ain't the heavy haulin' that hurts the horses."

There was a time when the beer commercials were pretty exasperating in the American living room, but now they seem to us to be merely comical, especially the new pitch in which "Home Sweet Home" or "The Old Oaken Bucket" is played softly (with perhaps a boy's choir in the distance) while mom, pop and the children gather on the honeysuckle porch and put on a "This is the life" expression as they open the beer cans. . . . Blood Still Needed, Mikels Declares

Red Cross Reports On Depot Drive

THE ANNUAL meeting of the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held during the last week in June, it was decided at the executive committee meeting held last night. Speakers and places for the dinner meeting were discussed.

Charles R. Bensinger presided at the meeting in the absence of Detrick Hansen, chapter chairman.

LeRoy Mikels reported on the successful visit of the mobile blood unit to the Signal Depot at Tobyhanna and praised the work of the donors and volunteer assistants. He warned, however, that the large number of pints donated at the depot cannot make up for smaller collections later.

"A constant and continuing supply of blood is needed," he explained, since whole blood cannot be kept after 21 days but must be broken down into plasma and derivatives. Fresh, whole blood must be in constant supply to fill needs of patients. The next blood visit is June 30.

Volunteers, 89 of them, gave 740 hours of service during the past month. Mrs. Walter Dreher, vice chairman of volunteer services, reported for Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, chairman. The blood bank required 49 volunteers for a total of 248 hours, while the hospital had 44 Gray Ladies giving 461 hours, and three nurses aides giving 12 and one half hours.

More nurses aides are needed, Mrs. Dreher pointed out. Home service cases were also active during the month. Mrs. Ida Kunkle, executive secretary reported, outlining some of the services which the chapter was able to provide for servicemen, their families and veterans during the month.

Miami Hotel Owners Report End Of Strike But Union Leaders Warn Of New Walkouts

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., June 3 (AP)—Hotel owners on Miami Beach's oceanfront said today the wave of walkouts which cut heavily into tourist trade was "all over" but union leaders promptly warned that "there'll be new strikes starting Tuesday."

"Our picketing has been temporarily restrained," said Dave Herman, who was sent here from New York by the AFL Hotel Employees Union to lead a drive to organize Miami Beach's hundreds of luxury hotels.

"We sent out letters today putting some more hotels on notice. New walkouts will start Tuesday."

We'll continue this fight as long as it takes. Our 400,000 union members are willing to spend a million dollars a year, more if necessary."

Telegrams went out from the Miami Beach Hotel Assn. today to newspapers in 75 cities, warning them not to accept union advertising which claimed that a strike is in progress.

The telegrams implied that the hotels would seek damages if the ads were published, on grounds that they might frighten summer tourists away from the beach.

An admission that the walkouts had hurt the hotels' business came from Bernie Kahn, public relations director for the multi-million dollar Saxon Hotel.

Kahn said union advertising in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other northern cities from which Miami draws millions of tourists had kept visitors away by implying that the hotel services were not up to par and that there was serious labor trouble on the beach.

At the same time, Marion Sibbey, attorney for a group of 15 first-line hotels, said he was preparing a damage suit against the union which would ask "hundreds of thousands of dollars for loss of business."

PTA President Praises Modern Parents' Interest

Washington—When it comes to being responsible, serious-minded parents, today's young Mr. and Mrs. are doing better than their own Ma and Pa says the president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Newton Leonard.

Mother of two and grandmother of five, she says this is especially true of GIs of World War II and recently married couples.

She sees today's post war youth in contrast to the "flaming youth" of the decade after World War I.

In the 1920s educators, preachers and parents moaned and worried about the ways of the younger generation—the hipsters, the cigarette-smoking girl who checked her girdle at a dance, the swaggering lad in his racoon coat, she recalls. Their children are now the young adults of another post world war period, and they are taking their responsibilities as parents very seriously, says Mrs. Leonard from the viewpoint of gray-haired years. This can be seen in their interest in the kind of education their children are getting—says Mrs. Leonard.

She is in her third year as head of the congress, which has about nine million members.

"Young parents are among our best members," she says. Those who are veterans have been sobered by their wartime experiences and others by the serious problems of the cold war.

Parent-teacher organizations once were mainly Ma with very little Pa, she says. She first joined 20 years ago when about the only men were school teachers and principals. In recent years, she reports, so many men have joined that the membership is a third male.

Some PTA units have elected a husband-and-wife team as president. This sometimes complicates parliamentary procedure at meetings, but husband-and-wife teams as committee co-chairmen have worked out well.

Some of the news sounds a lot more interesting than mine, and I'd copy it if it weren't for the laws of libel. Mac Ghee is the one to watch. Well, anyway it's quite a newspaper. A pet column, a social column, jokes and riddles, fashions, art, clubs and advertisements, both classified and display.

But back to my own news, for a change. Sounds to me as if the Bangor school board really had something at the party last night. In order to get the seniors back on home soil after their banquet, the school board members prepared and served a buffet lunch at the Blue Valley Farm Show building beginning at 11 a.m. I don't know what time they stopped, but it would have been a good idea if they'd had bacon and eggs to top it off.

Congregation Welcomes Pastor Back

Bartonville — Seventy-two persons were present at the Wesley Chapel social hall on Thursday night, May 26, when Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Bernard were honored at a "welcome back" reception in celebration of Rev. Bernard's return to the Tannersville Methodist parish for another year. The reception was planned by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church and started with a pot luck supper. A social time followed and Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., president of the WSCS, presented Rev. and Mrs. Bernard with a gift: tablecloth and napkins, on behalf of the members.

At the close of the social time, members of the building committee met to discuss ideas and plans for Sunday school rooms. It was reported that a tentative plan is being prepared for rooms to be built on the east end of the church about as large as the present church building. Rev. Bernard has named a large number of members to the building committee, with smaller groups on various committees working together for the completion of this project with a representation of all its membership. James N. Canfield Jr., Elwood Arndt, Wilson Merring and Mrs. Clyde White have been appointed to draw up plans and present ideas. Finance committee members are Rev. Bernard, Canfield and Arndt.

Parents Can Check Other Safeguards While Waiting For Salk Vaccine Shots

Every summer the fear of polio has sent cold shivers down the spine of almost every parent in the land. Now we can relax—at least we can as soon as the supplies of this precious new Salk vaccine are sufficient for all our children to receive their shots.

Parents have responded to this wonderful new milestone in the fight of man against disease with characteristic American enthusiasm.

I don't know what the final figures will show, but around Washington at least 90 per cent of parents of first and second graders signed the slips giving permission to have their children given the vaccine in the schools. This is a wonderful tribute to the faith our people have in science.

These free shots for first and second graders are the gift of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. The vaccine for all these children takes just about all that is available right now.

The parents of youngsters not in the first or second grade must wait until more vaccine can be made.

Since the vaccine takes time to make and to test, the supply will not be enough for everyone until sometime in the fall.

Children who are in the greatest danger of getting polio should be given the vaccine before those in less danger. The most susceptible age group is the youngsters between 5-10 years of age; next comes the 1-5 years old, and finally the children over 10 and young adults.

Many parents have already put their children's names on doctor's lists and are anxiously waiting.

I'd like to give a tribute to all the mothers of my patients and to all other mothers like them. Not a one has asked for special favors. A real mother understands the feelings of other mothers and she will not try to push her youngsters ahead of someone with

Playhouse Opens Next Thursday

MOUNTAINHOME — Pocono Playhouse opens its ninth season Thursday, June 9, with the comedy "King of Hearts", co-starring Donald Cook and Biff McGuire.

For this year's opening, according to Rowena Stevens, owner-manager, several additional improvements have been made to both the grounds and the building.

One of the most important improvements is the addition of a large workshop to the rear of the original building. This workshop area will serve as rooms for storing properties used in Playhouse productions and for the painting of sets used onstage.

Also included in the new structure is a good-sized rehearsal hall, Mrs. Stevens said. All rehearsals were formerly either held onstage at the Playhouse between performances of the play being given that week or in another auditorium in the locality.

Larger Parking Lot

A new, enlarged parking lot will be another feature of the Playhouse this season. Room has been made—through grading of extra ground—for an additional 200 parking cars, the owner said.

Current plans call for increasing the size and beautifying the lobby of the theater during the coming winter. Mrs. Stevens announced. Additional seating space will also be constructed, she said.

The staff for the Playhouse will remain substantially the same this summer. John O'Shaughnessy returns again as director and Tex Ballou will be back again as scenic designer after a touch of Broadway recognition for his costumes in the New York production of Clifford Odets' "The Flowering Peach".

John Staley replaces Paul Flood as business manager and Dixie Lee again takes over her duties as publicity director.

Coming Production

Among the other productions slated to be staged at the Playhouse this summer are the following: on June 29—"The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" by Herman Wouk, starring Jeffrey Lynn, seen here last year in "See Hot They Run"; on June 27—"Tonight at 8:30" starring Jane Pickens; July 4—a production of "Picnic", William Inge's play about fleeting love in a small town which won both the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Drama Critics' award in 1954.

The opening production, "King of Hearts", will be given for 11 performances through June 18 with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Other productions, for which dates have not been definitely set are these: Joan Blondell in a new play called "A Palm in A Rose Garden"; Edward Arnold in "Reclining Figure", a comedy presented on Broadway this past season; Ginger Rogers in "Kind Sir", a play by Norman Krasna; Stuart Erwin in "Time Out For Ginger"; and Magda Gabor in "This Thing Called Love".

At the close of the season, Helen Hayes—recognized by many persons as the "first lady" of the American theater—will be seen in a program of characterizations called "Gentlemen, The Queens". Miss Hayes is to be seen in the group of vignettes in the Midwest early this summer. Exact date of her appearance here has not yet been decided, Mrs. Stevens said.

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Today's the day for which every athletic fan, and even those only mildly interested, in East Stroudsburg has been waiting for several weeks. This is the day that the Cavaliers shoot for the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association baseball crown. This edition of the East Stroudsburg baseball team can become the first one in history to capture the District title, providing the N. Courtland St. sluggers can hurdle Hegin's Township.

Although this scribe has been able to find out very little about Hegin's Township, it was learned that the school specializes in baseball and is an annual power in the district. The school is about the same size as East Stroudsburg and has one of the finest baseball layouts in the entire state of Pennsylvania. According to information reaching this typewriter the Hegin's Township field is a thing of beauty and has fine seating arrangements.

Hegins won the South Schuylkill League championship this year, a feat which has become a habit of late, and has eliminated both St. Clair and Ringtown in the district playoffs. Hegin's Township High is located in Hegin's, 10 miles beyond Pottsville. In case of rain today, Hegin's would be able to play the game until next Tuesday. Today's game will have all the trimmings reserved for championship games and both schools will have large followings on hand.

Today's host is a solid baseball club, so this scribe has been informed. It likes to run, is a good defensive club and hits with authority. The team plays head-up ball in every department and will be a rough customer to handle. Hegin's boasts two outstanding left-handed pitchers in Jim Miller and Fritz Reed, with the former regarded as the ace of the staff. Miller, who is also one of the leading hitters on the club, is scheduled to face the Cavaliers in today's encounter.

A testimony to Miller's pitching ability is available in the box score of the recent Hegin's-St. Clair tussle. During this game the Hegin's outfield wasn't required to make a single putout. One of the outstanding oddities in today's scheduled battle is the fact that both starting pitchers will enter the contest with identical records of nine victories and two defeats. Bill Sommers, who is slated to do the hurling for the Cavaliers, has been involved in every decision racked up by East Stroudsburg this season.

Today's encounter is the climax to a brilliant season for the N. Courtland St. Charges of Coach Jack Kist. Regardless of what happens today the season will still be outstanding. The Cavaliers have gone through the current campaign in a workmanlike manner, winning seven of eight Lehigh-Northampton League contests and breaking even in two exhibitions. The club has won a host of friends with its display of spirit, confidence and ability to come through when the chips are down.

The Cavaliers, with their first Lehigh-Northampton League baseball title under their belts, drew a bye in the first round of play-off games and then humbled powerful Allentown, 5-2, to capture the Southern Division crown. Hegin's Township won the Northern Division title by downing St. Clair, 6-3, and Ringtown, 3-1, Ringtown had eliminated Hazleton from the playoffs before running into Hegin's Township.

East Stroudsburg demonstrated plenty of spirit in workouts on Thursday and yesterday. The Cavaliers are ready to give their best to continue the victory battle against playoff opposition. East Stroudsburg has a good team, one that in this reporter's estimation will make the grade today. It will take a good team to beat the Cavaliers this season and if the N. Courtland St. club should suffer defeat, one will know that Hegin's Township has one of the finest diamond organizations in Pennsylvania.

A tremendous crowd from East Stroudsburg is expected to follow the Cavaliers today. This is only fitting, as the 1955 Cavaliers have banded together into a fine baseball team. This team has not only won the respect of East Stroudsburg residents, but also the respect of Stroudsburg people. The Kistmen are plenty good enough to win the district crown—but so is Hegin's. According to Kist and Dick Forster, assistant Eastburg coach, both teams will enter today's contest evenly matched.

East Stroudsburg Battles Hegin's Township For Title

EAST STROUDSBURG High will attempt to add the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association baseball championship to a list that already includes the Lehigh-Northampton League and Southern Division titles today when the Cavaliers stack up against Hegin's Township, on the latter's home field.

The game will be played in Hegin's, a town of approximately 1,500 people and located 10 miles southwest of Pottsville. Hegin's worked its way into the championship picture by winning the South Schuylkill League championship and then defeating St. Clair, 6-3, and Ringtown, 3-1, in the Northern Division playoffs.

East Stroudsburg reached the same goal by capturing the Lehigh-Northampton League crown, drawing a bye in the first playoff round and then defeating Allentown, 5-2, for the Southern Division championship.

Bill Sommers and Jim Miller, veteran right and left hander, respectively, will be the starting hurlers when action gets underway at 3 p.m.

Both Sommers and Miller have carried the load for their respective clubs this season and each owns a mark of nine victories and two defeats.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that he would start exactly the same club that earned the right to take part in the championship battle.

This means that Co-Captain Charley "Snook" Litts will handle the catching duties, while Bill Pensyl will be at first base; Dick Gray, second base; Paul Hoffman, shortstop; Gene Plaza, third base; Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, left field; Tom Michaels, center field; and Helmut Gartner, right field.

If needed, Curt Hickman, a southpaw, is ready for relief pitching duties.

Coach Ed Ziegler's Hegin's Township club will answer the starting bell exactly as it did against St. Clair in the semi-final round of the Northern Division struggle.

The Shippers, nickname assigned to Hegin's Township athletic squads, will feature Frank Artz in the role of catcher; Fritz Reed, first base; Bruce Shomper, sec-

Reed, another southpaw, is the number two pitcher for Hegin's Township and authored a five-hit, 3-1 verdict over Ringtown on Thursday.

The field on which today's game will be played is reportedly one of the best in the state and features adequate seating facilities.

The Cavaliers plan to depart from the N. Courtland St. School at 9 a. m. today and eat lunch in the Pottsville area around noon. They will dress in the Hegin's Township school building and will workout on the field at around 2 p. m.

Members of the East Stroud-burg team also plan to eat their evening meal in the Pottsville sector.

The entire squad, including three managers, will make the trip today. The only absent member will be Jerry "Moose" Zeman, who was discharged from the Monroe County General Hospital on Thursday, following an appendectomy. Zeman was the regular shortstop during the league season.

Today's game will be seven innings in length and the home team will be decided by a flip of a coin prior to the cry of "Play Ball."

The Northern Division of District 11 will supply two umpires, while the Southern Division supplies one arbitrator.

Senators Decision Indians Behind McDermott's Hurling

CLEVELAND, June 3 (AP)—Mickey McDermott held Cleveland to three hits tonight as his Washington Nationals beat the Indians 3-1 on homers by Mickey Vernon and Roy Sievers.

McDermott, who shut out the Indians 3-0 in their latest previous meeting, fanned six and walked five for his fourth win against five losses.

The Indians scored in the first when Al Rosen doubled in Bob Avila who had walked.

Vernon's homer into the right field stands in the fourth inning tied it up.

Deciding Blow
Sievers made it 3-1 in the seventh with a blast over the left field fence, scoring Vernon who drew the only walk of the game off starter Bob Lemon. It was Vernon's seventh homer of the year, and Sievers' sixth.

All Washington's runs were scored off Lemon, who was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning. Hank Foiles, who batted for Lemon, got the second hit off McDermott, a single to center field. The Indians' final hit was a single by Dave Pope in the ninth.

The Pirates, winning their second consecutive game, banged out 18 hits. The Redlegs had 12.

Cubs Use Homers To Sink Giants

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Home runs by Gene Baker, Eddie Miksis and rookie Bob Speake, accounted for all of the Chicago Cubs' runs tonight as they defeated the New York Giants 4-1. Don Mueller's inside-the-park homer in the first was the Giants' lone run and snapped Bob Rush's scoreless string against the National League champions after 26 1-3 innings.

Ramon Monzant right-hander brought up from Minneapolis two days ago, was the victim of the homers by Miksis and Speake in the third. Miksis' blow, his third of the season, came with Harry Chitt on base. Speake's homer was his 11th.

Leaves Scene
Monzant left the scene in the third with two out and Paul Giel, ex-Minnesota All-America football player, hurled the next 3 1-3 innings. He yielded Baker's homer—the third for the brilliant Cub second baseman.

Hoit Wilhelm hurled the last three innings for the Giants and pitched shutout ball but the New Yorkers could do nothing with Rush, who had shut them out in two previous games this season.

Route To Hegin's Mapped For Fans Wishing To Make Trip

ONE OF THE LARGEST crowds to ever follow an East Stroudsburg High School athletic squad on the road is expected to make the 90-mile trip to Hegin's, Pa., today for the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association championship baseball game.

The contest will pit East Stroudsburg against Hegin's Township.

Head Coach Jack Kist and assistant Dick Forster last night mapped out a route for those wishing to make the trip to cheer for the Cavaliers.

Fans are urged to travel Route 209 through Lehighton to Schuylkill Haven. Take Route 443 at Schuylkill Haven and then move on Route 122. Return to Route 209 and travel into Pottsville. Immediately outside of Pottsville take Route 25 into Hegin's.

The trip may also be made by staying on Route 209 until reaching Route 25 on the other side of Pottsville. Follow Route 25 into Hegin's.

Hegin's is located 10 miles outside of Pottsville.

Cardinals Equal Record, But Dodgers Gain Victory, 12-5

BROOKLYN, June 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals paraded eight pitchers to the mound tonight and equalled a National League record while the Brooklyn Dodgers and Duke Snider continued their slugging ways for a 12-5 victory at Ebbets Field.

The league leaders belted starters Tom Poholsky for four runs in the first inning when Snider rapped his 17th homer and Roy Campanella got his 15th.

One ray of light came for St. Louis in the fifth inning when Stan Musial whacked the 300th homer of his career over the right field scoreboard with two mates aboard to spark a four-run rally.

40 Per Cent Of Illicit Drug Trade Halted

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Harvey K. Anslinger, U.S. narcotics commissioner, told Senate investigators today a concentration of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and FBI wouldn't stop heroin smuggling into New York City. "Searching ships is a very difficult matter," Anslinger said. "Seizures are made on the basis of information developed here and abroad." With only four agents in Europe, the commissioner said, the Narcotics Bureau is able to stop at the source about 40 per cent of the illicit drugs destined for the United States. "These four men," he said, "are worth 100 men here."

Anslinger testified for a second day before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating the narcotics traffic and the possibility of strengthening laws to fight it. Anslinger said that Lebanon recently has become "the center of an enormous traffic in heroin through clandestine laboratories that have been set up by international gangsters." Anslinger also said that narcotics from Italy were primarily responsible for a big increase in the drug traffic and drug addiction in this country following World War II. He said that the traffic to Wilkes-Barre Wednesday night to the blood bank to secure a rare type of blood for a friend undergoing emergency operation. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hyson of Astoria, N. Curtiss-Wright To Spend Four Millions Immediately To Develop New Jet Center

HARRISBURG, June 3 (AP)—The Curtiss-Wright Corp. today pledged to spend four million dollars immediately on a new jet research center in north-central Pennsylvania. Roy T. Hurley, company president, made the announcement as Gov. Leader signed into law a batch of enabling legislation selling and leasing 84 acres of state forest and game lands to the firm. Leader estimated between 6,000 and 7,000 persons will ultimately be employed on the project located in Cameron, Clearfield and Elk counties. As he penned his name to the series of bills and contracts making the transfer of title, Leader commented: "I think I must almost be pleased as all those people up in that area who have been looking for jobs and now see a chance to get them. It's a tremendous asset in that area and to the entire Commonwealth."

Hurley turned over two checks totaling $50,000 to the governor. One for $30,000 represents a year's rent for leasing 44,700 acres from the state. The other for $20,000 represented a down payment on approximately $193,000 which will be paid by the state before Oct. 5 on the outright purchase of 8,500 acres. The land purchased outright represents a radius of two miles from a center point in Cameron County. Leased was an outer buffer area with an additional radius of three miles from the center point. Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 8 or more, subtract 1. If the number is less than 8 add 3. The result is your key number. Your Horoscope Today

By FRANC'S DRAKE

SATURDAY, JUNE 4
March 21 to April (Aries)—Moderate vibrations today so it behooves all Arians to maintain a calm disposition, be amenable to advice or instructions from proper authorities, trust to dry friends. Persevere, cooperate.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Ignorance and anxiety today. The vision is clearer and judgment sounder when you preserve a rational, calm, collected manner. Better financial conditions than start new tasks—finessing. Romance favored.
May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Tense tempt you into wrong channels, scatter your efforts to the winds. Do not achieve little; in fact lose time, energy. Do your best; you will gain.
June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Pick your way carefully, especially in important matters where accuracy and patience are essential. This is no day to "fix off the handle." Good work can be accomplished.
July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—No extraordinary gains! You can, nevertheless, create chances for some in certain endeavors—particularly those allied to your talents and circumstances. Diligent effort will not go unnoticed. Be patient.
August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Advance in business, professional and other affairs by dint of intelligent hard work is possible now. Strive after the worthwhile; avoid the useless activities that take time and energy, and waste life.
September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Serenely attack all duties, chores and urgent matters. Settle for the best you can do, and don't be discouraged if things do not turn out as you wish on your first try. Enjoy some free time with family.
October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—If you know you have been maintaining a strenuous pace, slow down, revitalize; it helps the viewpoint, too. Without neglecting important items, get some relaxation.
November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—It is easy to tell others how to do things, but when it comes to your own action, do you always recognize your errors? Review, revise where needed.
December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—It is healthier to stop every so often in order to check, re-energize and go over details and angles "once again" carefully, than to drive ahead, blind and up with needless mistakes and strain.
January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—You, too, check, re-energize and go over details and angles "once again" carefully, than to drive ahead, blind and up with needless mistakes and strain.
February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—You born today are mentally and physically active. You are energetic, but this can be a drawback if you engage in too many things at one time, not leaving room for sufficient improvement in one or two. Be careful about scattering your talents and energies. You will find it easy to get cooperation and carry through plans by graciously listening to others' suggestions and by recognizing their wishes. You have imagination, dexterity; can become fluent in speech; are often impulsive, act with bursts of enthusiasm. Practice a steady tempo; pray daily.

MAY THE YMCA EVER PROSPER AS AN INFLUENCE FOR GOOD IN THIS COMMUNITY

Labor has no quarrel with the YMCA as an organization. Labor had, however, a definite quarrel with the building program of the YMCA as it was conducted locally . . . and Labor fought—as Labor always will fight—in a cause it believes to be right. With controversial issues now behind us, Labor exemplifies those immortal words of Lincoln when he said (in part): "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the . . . wounds; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all . . ." So we say, "May the YMCA ever prosper as an influence for good in this community!"

Central Labor Union Of Monroe County

Cornerstone Laid Sept. 12, 1953 By S. S. Kresge

ON September 12, 1953 the cornerstone of the new Monroe County YMCA was placed in position by S. S. Kresge of Mountainhome, noted philanthropist and major contributor to the structure costing $550,000.

Two campaigns for funds, one in 1945 and another in 1953, were necessary to create the financial pool for the building erected on the site of the old Collins Mansion between Eighth and Ninth Streets, on Main St.

The Collins Mansion was purchased in 1915, a year following formal organization of the YMCA movement on a stable basis in Stroudsburg. Consistent growth of the "Y" movement in Stroudsburg spread its services to the youth and adults over the entire county. Moreover, the Y building became a center for many types of community activities and meetings. Expansion was essential to meet the growing demands for more efficient and adequate service.

At the time of the dedication services, shown in two phases above, everything rested on full and complete payment of all pledges. Mr. Kresge's contribution, amounting to exactly $252,300, hinged on complete payment of all pledges.

It still does, although he has contributed all but $50,000 of his gift to the big project. The remainder will be paid promptly when some $48,000 in outstanding pledges are paid by firms, organizations and individuals who have made them. Every cent is needed to pay for and complete certain miscellaneous phases of the handsome new structure.

One of the other generous givers was the late J. J. Newberry who started his nation-wide chain of stores in Stroudsburg. Mr. Newberry's gift to the YMCA building project totaled about $47,000.

The importance of pledge payments rests not only with the need for Mr. Kresge's final $50,000, but in the fact that YMCA officials are anxious to pay all contractors and suppliers now that the building is in use.

The Barrett Branch of the YMCA, at left, located at Mountainhome, was acquired recently to carry out the special services of YMCA work among all ages in the Barrett and adjacent territory. The competent staff of the Monroe County Y, with adult associates, functions in a full program at the Barrett branch.

Adult Lobby Designed For Complete Relaxation

THIS is the "Adult" entrance to the three-story brick and steel YMCA building. The attractive limestone used along the entire front and as general trim lends dignity to the structure. Upper floor construction of the building is brick with the usual cinder block background around massive steel skeleton structure.

Double metal doors lead directly into a foyer, separated again by metal doors before entering the colorful "Adult" Lobby.

Designed for complete relaxation, the Adult Lobby has been equipped with contemporary furnishings with complete harmony in color. Although color use is bold, a tasteful harmony results in a restful atmosphere.

Chairs range from modern upholstery, leather covered seats to posture fitting single chairs with heavy cloth coverings. Wood on all furnishings is light in finish. Still to be added to the Adult Lobby is a piano.

Floors are rubber-tile covered in light, flecked tan. The same type of material and same color scheme for flooring is carried out throughout the building.

Heavy use of window space assures maximum light to complement the striking draperies during day-time hours.

Venetian blinds are utilized to control natural lighting.

Fluorescent light, recessed with louvers provide ample light from three long ceiling panel installations after darkness. The Adult Lobby is complimented by a wide corridor leading to the many other centers of activity in the new $550,000 building.

Offices for transaction of business are immediate to this Lobby, as well as other services to those who will be permanent or transient residents of the modern building.

Youth Activities Are Centered In Junior Lobby

YOUTH which must be served and is served so well by the YMCA enters on a new adventure in recreation, guidance and health giving services through this plainly labelled "Juniors" entrance to the new YMCA building.

Treatment structurally is identical with the Adult Lobby and very functional Social furniture has been installed here including a wood slab walnut finish bench, magazine rack of birch.

Two game tables with Gray Skylark formica tops and birch finish, plus game table chairs with lime wood finish are complemented by a metal frame settee covered in green leather with a complementing chair. Walnut finish arm chairs complete the furnishings.

Here the draperies are a bit more striking at the huge front and side windows. Venetian blinds are utilized to cut day-time light and again artificial light comes from the recessed, three-panel fluorescent ceiling installations.

While there are game tables in the Junior Lobby, it is contemplated that the Lobby will be retained for minor relaxation for the large number of Junior members of the YMCA.

Supplementing the Junior Lobby activities, ultimately, will be a special "Rumpus Room" in one of the spacious basement rooms of the building.

Pending that, there will be a couple of ping pong tables installed in the Junior Lobby. In close proximity to Junior Lobby are the appropriate offices of the director of Youth Activities and a business office. Cloak rooms and a bulletin and records room containing all the data on youth programs—normal and special—are immediately adjacent to the Junior Lobby.

Modern Gym And Swimming Pool Fill Major Needs

ONE of the major needs of the Monroe County YMCA has been a modern indoor swimming pool for year-round swimming for relaxation for all ages, for competitive swimming events, and for swimming and First Aid-lessons.

The Natatorium room shown at top is completely tiled. The Pool measures 60 by 20 feet and ranges from 9 feet at the diving board end to three and a half feet at the shallow end.

It will hold 55,000 gallons of water which is filtered twice every 24 hours. Ceiling is of sound absorbent, waterproof material.

Shower rooms for Juniors and Seniors with locker rooms connecting are immediate to the Natatorium. Wide-tiled walks flanking the pool provide ample space for spectators interested in competitive events.

Gleaming tile walls, hardwood floors set off the modern gymnasium and all of its modern gymnastic and game equipment. Here again the YMCA's new plant has developed the finest for top recreation and health giving exercises for all ages.

The equipment includes a Nissen flashfold Trampoline with webbing bed, for trampoline acrobatics—an entirely new feature for the Y here, but one which has grown in popularity in gymnastics, even to theatrical use by the top Trampoline artists.

Other equipment includes a 428 square foot wrestling mat, pair of jumping standards, a jumping board, a gymnastic buck, pair of flying rings, two climbing ropes, a full-guyed horizontal bar, pair of combination volleyball and badminton end standards, an electric score board and timer. Regulation baskets for basketball are installed on two walls with two others installed on the short walls for "Biddy" type basketball. Showers and lockers are adjacent.

Up-To-Date Kitchen Available For Special Events

THE last word in kitchen equipment has been installed in a modern second floor kitchen with the thought in mind that food for the inner man is a service as essential as the athletic, recreational, and character building services of the YMCA.

While food prepared on the facilities shown here will be primarily for groups associated with the Y, such as teams, the various adult, young men and 'teen age groups, it will also be available to groups desiring to use the Y's facilities for meetings and special events.

Top photograph shows the gleaming stainless steel vegetable bins at right, steam tables and service door at right with huge coffee urn in left background. Right background shows the automatic, hot steam and water dish washer with receiving door for soiled dishes to left.

Below is the boiler room containing two huge International Boilers. One is sufficient to heat the building under normal conditions—two for extraordinary conditions or an emergency. Both are equipped with oil burners to provide low-pressure steam heat.

Every room in the building has its own thermostat. They are air pressure controlled. Every phase of this important portion of the installations in the new building are as automatic and modern as the plumbing industry has achieved up to this moment.

In this area too, the all-important hot water is heated in vast quantities to provide for both Adult and Junior Showers, pool water and water for kitchen use.

Banquet Rooms Suited For Large Or Small Groups

DINING room facilities sufficient to comfortably seat and serve 150 persons, are located on the second floor of the new building. Adjacent to the modern kitchen, a service door directly above steam tables, sets the stage for swift service.

Just as proximate is another service window—this one to deliver soiled dishes and tableware to the automatic dish-washing machine in the kitchen.

The big room above can be divided into two rooms, one larger than the other, so that compartmentation is assured to fit the size of the banquet or luncheon group.

Bright draperies, soft lighting and an attractive color scheme provide a restful, cheerful atmosphere for diners. This room is also an excellent facility for general meetings of YMCA organizations, or of other organizations desiring to make the Y their meeting headquarters.

Below at right is a ladies lounge, completely furnished in attractive walnut finish period furniture. Plank tables, posture fitting chairs, a few "soft" chairs and dark brown rug are set off by colorful draperies at spacious windows and venetian blinds. A board has been built in the wall for illustrations for the discussion groups.

Club rooms are plentiful in the new building. Smaller than other rooms in the building, they are furnished with club-type chairs, longer than average tables for group deliberations. In each instance a board has been built in the wall for illustrations and discussion pieces.

These rooms are an important feature of the new building because of the several Y clubs for both boys, girls, men and women which function constantly under the broad program presented by all YMCA organizations.

Dormitory Facilities Provided For Twenty Persons

FOR YEARS it's been traditional for established YMCA operations to provide living quarters—sometimes for what might be called permanent residents—and most frequently for transients.

The new Y building here has eighteen dormitory rooms capable of accommodating twenty persons. Two of the rooms have twin beds. Beds are of Hollywood type with excellent springs and head board and good mattresses purchased under specifications.

Color scheme is cheerful, with soft colors. Ample closet space, a bureau finished in walnut, writing desk and lamp and one chair, varying in color scheme room-to-room.

Chenille bed spreads in gray and white and black and white cover the normal bedding. A blanket is supplied. Here, as in other rooms of the building, the heat is thermostatically controlled.

Large windows with draw draperies can provide light to the taste of the tenant. Each window is screened over one-half portion to allow for adequate ventilation.

These photos show samples of the double and single room. All of the rooms are located on the third floor of the new building.

On the same floor is a large, tiled shower room with lavatory and other accessories. Installations here are on a par with the other excellent shower facilities located on other floors of the buildings.

In planning the dormitory installations, care was taken to insure every room is "an outside" room. They are all along the front and down the side of the new building, removing the tenant from possibility of annoyance from sounds coming from other activities in the YMCA program during evening hours.

The check-in desk and room keys are located on the first floor right next to the lobby and offices of the General Secretary and his staff.
